Do You Want To Ignite Your Relationships with Understanding?

Do You Want to Learn More About Your Own Personality?

Start by Applying the Universally Understood Four Elements of Success with Nicole Greer

“The point is to become yourself, to use yourself completely—all your skills, gifts, and energies in order to make your vision manifest. You must withhold nothing. You must, in sum, become the person you started out to be, and enjoy the process of becoming.” – Warren Bennis

We Are Different

“One thing remains clear. We are different. And while diversity programs abound, the emphasis on race, age, and gender overlook perhaps the most basic fact of human diversity: personality. Personality-driven behavior dictates actions, and actions determine success or failure, harmony or riot, in any and every endeavor.”
—The Four Elements of Success, by Laurie Beth Jones

You depend on groups. You depend on the successful outcomes of teamwork. And the keys to productive relationships—whether in a billion dollar organization or an entrepreneurial team of two—are as basic as earth, water, wind, and fire. In the Four Elements training, Life/Business Coach, Nicole Greer challenges you to look to the elements of creation to find a wisdom that is profoundly simple. With her trademark enthusiasm and refreshing emphasis on speaking to the possibilities of success, Nicole Greer unlocks this ageless wisdom and marries it with a modern personality and communication theory.

The result? Powerful new possibilities for collaboration, change, and success. My intention is that this system will be a genesis...a new beginning. May you take the elemental makeup of your own personality, and that of your team, and create something that never existed before.

Building a Strong Team

With fingerprints—no two alike—we are energy filled, action oriented phenomena. Humans have an innate desire to form teams, to bond with others to create something new. Ultimately, all human progress depends on teamwork. What causes some individuals to win and others to lose? What allows a small group of highly committed individuals to outsmart and out-manuever teams larger and more financially well endowed?

What It Takes To Build Healthy Relationships

The difference is a VIBRANT life...an individual living a vibrant life operates from a strength perspective passionately embracing who they are. You must know and thoroughly understand who you are at the core.

Using the highly visual and universally understood elements of Earth, Water, Wind and Fire, coaching and training around The Four Elements of Success (written by Laurie Beth Jones) provides insight and information into your unique personality and that of your team members.

The PEP or Path Elements Profile™, is a simple, sound and effective personality/communication tool that will change the way you see your relationships.

YOU ARE Passionate ABOUT YOUR LIFE AND BUSINESS!

You are passionate about your life and business and want the people on your team to reach their highest potential. Discover your talents and your team member's talents in a powerful way, ignite your relationships with understanding, increase your productivity, and inspire others to do more together!

The PEP™ could be the only tool you will ever need. This assessment is a new approach to the age-old challenge of working with people. A tool so simply intuitive that everyone from Fortune 500 CEO's to school-aged children have successfully applied its insights.

What is Your Element?

Earth

Earth personalities are grounded. They embrace structure. Solid, steady, and stable, the earth provides a nurturing environment for the other personalities to grow. The earth personality understands the gravity of every situation and intuitively creates a system, season, and cycle to abundantly support the team.

Water

Water personalities are life giving. Without a water personality on the team, nothing will survive. The water personality understands how flexibility serves the mission and the vision. Effortlessly, they support, cleanse, and dilute any situation with their inherent transformational power. The Water personality is sparkling, pure and reflective.

Wind

Wind personalities are uplifting. The fun loving wind personality values a global perspective, interaction, new ideas and diversity. The boundless wind personality brings excitement and energy to every task. They message and communicate with ease. The wind is action oriented, confident and playful.

Fire

Fire personalities are captivating. They ignite any situation with their powerful, passionate, and radiant presence. Most oriented to the present moment, the fire is task oriented and blazes a trail. The fire personality sheds light, pioneers the effort, and signals the team to action. The fire is directing, assertive, and decisive.
